2013 AC World Championship

Dear Marc,

On behalf of the World Croquet Federation I would like to pass on our sincere thanks to Roehampton Club, to you and your management team, the croquet section and to all the members who put in so much effort to make the 14th WCF Association Croquet World Championship such a great success.

We would particularly like to thank:

- John Lockyer, Course and Grounds Manager, and croquet head groundsman, Chris Hughes, for the superbly prepared lawns. These were the fastest green croquet lawns (rather than burnt brown) I have ever come across and presented a proper challenge to the competitors
- Tristran McIlroy, Golf and Games Manager, for the excellent arrangements and very welcome hospitality, opening reception and barbeque.

The efforts of your staff and also the members of the croquet section were very much appreciated.

Roehampton Club was a fine venue for this important international competition, providing a welcoming and highly professional setting. I thank Roehampton Club and croquet section for their help in delivering such a high quality event. Many thanks indeed.
