

PHOTO CLUB LECTURE WITH JOEL MEYEROWITZ

Joel Meyerowitz is an award-winning photographer whose work has appeared in over 350 exhibitions around the world. He has an exhibition at Tate Modern up to the end of 2024.

Celebrated as a pioneer of colour photography Meyerowitz was the only photographer to gain unrestricted access to Ground Zero after 9/11, which produced a body of work that led him to represent the United States at the Venice Biennale for Architecture in 2002.

Meyerowitz will talk about 'The Gasp Reflex' – how to create photos that represent yourself plus his collaboration with his wife, writer and artist Maggie Barrett in 'The Art of Collaboration'.

THURSDAY 31ST OCTOBER 7-8.30PM

Joel and Maggie will also talk about the new documentary made about their relationship: Two Strangers Trying Not to Kill Each Other showing at the British Film Institute London Film Festival this October. Not to be missed!

FREE FOR ART GROUP AND PHOTOCLUB MEMBERS
REGISTER AT RECEPTION TO SECURE YOUR PLACE

Members £15 | Guests £20

Enjoy an early supper in the Club Café before the lecture or continue the evening with friends over dinner at the Bistro.

Book now at Reception or give the team a call on 020 8480 4200

PHOTO CLUB

@RoehamptonClubMembers

